CONTRACT AND GRANT OFFICERS

Subject: Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory Joint Genome Institute Non-Proprietary User Agreement No. NPUSR006435

The subject User Agreement attached allows all University campus researchers access to the Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory (LBNL) Joint Genome Institute (JGI) for sequencing of genetic resources. Under Appendix A-1 of this Agreement, users from University of California campuses may use the JGI facility without signing a separate agreement for each campus or a separate appendix for each approved user proposal.

This User Agreement is for non-proprietary sequencing of genetic resources. The Agreement specifically states under Article IX. F., Disclosure of Proprietary Data, that no proprietary data should be disclosed to the JGI.

Any such data, regardless of how it is marked, shall be deemed Technical Data and CONTRACTOR
shall have Unlimited Rights in the data.

In addition, the JGI does not delay publishing sequence data for any reason. Result from any sequencing is published directly by the JGI to the GenBank. As Article IX. G., states:

Sequence data from the Genetic Resources will be posted to GenBank or will otherwise be made publicly available for use by anyone for any purpose. The USER understands that the JGI cannot limit how the sequence data will be ultimately used after posting to GenBank.

As there is no exchange of funds under this User Agreement, campus researchers may submit proposals directly to LBNL JGI. University researchers interested in information on the facility capabilities, including instructions on how to submit a proposal, can find directions at the LBNL JGI website:
<http://www.jgi.doe.gov/CSP/index.html>.

This Agreement is in effect from five years from September 1, 2009 through August 31, 2014. This Agreement replaces the User Agreement published with C&G Memo 06-04.
